Northwest Federal Credit Union Partners with iSekurity
More than 97,000 Members Eligible for Identity Theft Protection Service

WASHINGTON, DC – July 24, 2008 – iSekurity, a full-service identity theft protection and detection company comprised of the largest collection of former federal agents in the United States, announces a flagship partnership agreement with Northwest Federal Credit Union (NWFCU), a full-service financial institution serving select government employees and more than 400 companies in Northern Virginia. The partnership allows NWFCU to offer iSekurity's identity theft protection and detection service to more than 97,000 Credit Union members.

NWFCU selected iSekurity as its new and ongoing identity theft protection partner because of its proactive approach to security and its corporate alignment with NWFCU strategic objectives.

"The hallmark of our customer service strategy is providing financial safety and security to all of our members. iSekurity's identity theft philosophy and comprehensive service plan fits squarely within this approach, and we are thrilled to commence this strategic partnership," said Gerriane "Winky" Burks, president and chief executive officer of NWFCU. "It's important that the Northwest Federal Credit Union take a strong leadership role in the identity theft battle, and a partnership with iSekurity enables us to fulfill this responsibility. We look forward to a long and successful relationship with iSekurity."

"iSekurity's partnership with Northwest Federal Credit Union has inherent synergy that will bode well for its members," said Susan Kampe, chief executive officer of iSekurity. "Many of the credit union's members work in the government intelligence community, so there is unique alignment given iSekurity's past federal agency experience. Additionally, both companies take immense pride in our leadership roles in educating on identity theft and protecting the safety of our respective member bases."

NWFCU and iSekurity have long-range plans for continued collaboration, including the hosting of several identity theft-related seminars and events.
